WORKPLACE SAFETY: A Critical COVID-19 Concern for Manufacturers. EnergyEdge program can help.

As manufacturers address COVID-19 safety concerns, appropriate HVAC system airflow, ventilation and filtration are critically important. Through the EnergyEdge program, RMI's engineers can help you assess and address your workplace safety in this area and others.

What is provided to a manufacturer through the EnergyEdge program at no cost?

- RMI's Energy engineers perform an extensive COMPLIMENTARY ENERGY AUDIT – looking at facility, equipment and production efficiency

"The audit we did ourselves, at a cost of about $10,000, was good, but what RMI and their energy team did at NO COST TO US was even better." Maryland manufacturer

- Audit findings and recommendations for best R.O.I. are presented to the company
- Assistance accessing rebates, tax savings, grants & loans – with actual, hands-on help drafting the required applications, reviewing vendor quotes and more. In many cases, we help make companies CASH NEUTRAL on their upgrades and changes.
- Best practice sharing among companies involved in RMI's Energy Edge Program.
